ON THE DAY

COOK

Make salad:

- place lettuce in serving bowls
- arrange cucumber & tomato on lettuce

Pre-cook:

- bacon & onion rings (toppings)
- chicken burgers & veggie burgers
- you could cook beef/lamb burgers indoors and finish off on the barbecue for added flavour (if barbecuing for lots of people)

Pre-portion/slice cheese

READY FOR SERVICE

Ensure barbecue is pre-heated ready to cook/finish off burgers

Fry chips

Hot hold cooked chips, curry sauce, onion rings & bacon

Fry eggs to order

Have on counter - mayonnaise, relish, ketchup, brown sauce

Check manufacturer's instructions for timings and ensure all hot food has a core temperature of 75C

Ensure that all barbecue preparations are done in accordance with food safety law

(See Recipes section for more detailed information – remember to login first)

Other Safety Tips for BBQ:

- staff who cook on barbecues need the same food safety training as those cooking in a kitchen
- for consistent cooking and less hassle you will find a gas barbeque a good investment- Lockhart stock these (see suppliers section for contact details)
- you should be wearing proper clothing for cooking ie: apron, hat, closed in shoes
- you need somewhere close by to wash your hands with hand sanitiser; hot & cold water running water should be available; keep hand sanitiser near bbq
- all utensils should be kept in a clean area; use separate utensils for raw & cooked meat- you can buy colour coded utensils from Lockhart
- temperature probe should be available to monitor temperature of cooked meat
- any surfaces used for food should be easily cleaned & sanitised
- you should have a good pair of oven gloves to protect your hands
- do not allow people to smoke nearby
- ensure raw meat is kept sealed and refrigerated until just prior to cooking and away from all other produce; think about keeping raw meat in a cool box if outside and being aware raw meat can remain in there for 4 hours only
